THURSDAY, FEB. 22, 1900.

The price of print paper has advanced $20 a ton. The tariff is $6 a ton. The Democratic papers that yell for the removal of the tariff on paper ought first to explain the other $24.

According to his own confession, Aguinaldo is a traitor; according to the statements of his friends, he is a murderer, and, according to the word of Admiral Dewey, he is a liar. Materials for a character study of the Washington of the Philippines are accumulating fast.

There is one institution that seeks the site and not the site the institution. The government wants to find a suitable location for a powder magazine, but finds few bidders. Cities and neighborhoods say "No." And one thousand dollars an acre is not much of a temptation.

We think that congress should complete the work begun by Chicago and make a deep water channel from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi. It would not only be of untold value to the country in time of peace, but should we be so unfortunate to engage in war with a foreign power, would really save the expense of a large navy.

Galtin's Cough Syrup gives quicker relief than any other remedy. Don't let your cough keep you awake at night. Take Galtin's Cough Syrup. It is so pleasant children cry for it.

There ought to be something in Mr. Atkinson's suggestion of potash deposits in Kansas. You don't know what there really is in western Kansas until you go out and prospect around a bit. But, although the gold miners and potash hunters may do considerable digging up of land, the western part of the State will be known as a live-stock Eldorado for some time to come.—Farmer's Advocate.

United States Senators should be nominated by each political party, as Abraham Lincoln was nominated by the Republicans of Illinois for United States Senator. Had Illinois elected a clear Republican majority of the legislature on joint ballot Lincoln would have been elected Senator instead of Lyman Trumbull, whose election was only possible by his receiving the votes of the anti-Nebraska Democrats, who would not vote for Lincoln.

Edward Atkinson, the Boston statistician, believes that there is considerable money in potash deposits in Kansas. He has written to Governor Stanley to induce him to make an investigation. Mr. Atkinson says that potash deposits are found in connection with salt-beds, and he believes there is a large amount of potash in western Kansas. Governor Stanley has referred the matter to the salt companies of this State.

Man Who Was Stealing a Ride Was Nearly Frozen to Death.

When they opened a refrigerator car at Swift's packing house in Kansas City, on the 14th, workmen found John Weier, a farm hand of Bloomington, Ill., nearly frozen to death.

He had been in the car four days and four nights, having climbed in the previous, Saturday, thinking to beat his way to Southwest Kansas, where he has relatives. Soon after he got in a man came along, closed the door, and locked it, and Weier found himself unable to get out. He was in pitiable shape when found, but will recover.

Will Kill Prairie Dogs.

The following receipt for killing prairie dogs is given by Capt. J. D. Mitchell, manager of the Square and Compass ranch in Colorado, who claims that he has killed hundreds of the pests with the mixture and that it never fails:

"Put into a glass jar and let stand for 24 hours, the whites of one dozen eggs and five spoonfuls of green coffee. Dissolve in one and one-half pints of hot water one-half pounds of cyanide of potassium, and pour into the mixture of eggs and shake well. Then pour into the mixture one-quarter pound strychnine, dissolve in one pint of good syrup and stir in with the poison, and then mix with two bushels of good wheat or kafir corn and stir in one gallon of meal. Stir well so as to get well mixed."

A prairie dog that partakes of the above mixture will immediately take flight to that bourne whence no prairie dog returns.

Passage of the Gold Bill.

The majority by which the gold standard bill passed the Senate was considerably larger, in proportion to the number of members in that body, than was the one it had in the House. The House passed the bill on December 18 by a vote of 190 to 150, or by a majority of 40. The vote by which the Senate substitute for the House bill has just passed the Senate was 46 to 29, or by a majority of 17. In each case the bill received some Democratic votes. Eleven Democrats aligned themselves with the Republicans in the House in its favor. Two Democrats in the Senate—Caffery of Louisiana and Lindsay of Kentucky—voted for the measure. All the Republicans in the House, however, were recorded in favor of the bill, while one Senator who is nominally a Republican—Chandler of New Hampshire—voted against the measure. Among the Republicans who voted for the gold standard was Senator Wolcott of Colorado, who is one of the representatives of a state which had virtually only one party in 1896, nearly all its voters casting their ballots for Bryan.

In their leading feature the House and the Senate bills are practically the same. Both aim to put the gold standard in the statute books so firmly that it could not be removed except by the concurrent action of a base money President and of the two branches of Congress. Both measures provide for the redemption of the government's currency specifically in gold, and not either in gold or silver, at the option of the Secretary of the Treasury. Several minor features are in the Senate bill which are not in the House measure. One of these provides for the refunding of certain classes of bonds at lower rates of interest in long-time securities. The other stipulates that the act "is not intended to place any obstacles in the way of the accomplishment of international bimetalism, provided the same can be secured by concurrent action of the leading nations of the world, and at a ratio which shall insure permanence of relative value between gold and silver." The refunding feature of the Senate bill is opposed by several prominent Republican papers, but it has a chance of acceptance in the conference committee to which the two bills will be presented.

There is a strong probability, on the other hand, that the Senate's bimetallic provision will be rejected by the conferees. Every Republican paper of standing and ability in the country has opposed his provision. It received a large majority in the Senate, it is true, but the House will undoubtedly make a powerful fight against it, and is likely to win. It is understood, too, that the President is opposed to the bimetallic deliverance. The concession to the silverites will gain no votes for the Republicans from the 45c dollar side, while it is calculated to offend many gold standard men. Of course the provision, if it is retained, will not endanger the stability of the gold standard. The "concurrent action of the leading commercial nations of the world" in favor of the restoration of the double standard, which this provision mentions, will never be obtained, and not half a dozen of the Senators who voted for it ever expect this. There the expression is useless, and ought to have been omitted in the Senate. In its principal feature, however, the Senate bill is a wise measure. There will be a sharp contest in the conference committee, and the bimetallic stipulation will probably be out of the measure when it goes to the President, but whether it is in or out the act will make a distinctive advance on the present coinage and currency laws, and will strengthen the Republican party's hold upon the country.—Globe-Democrat.

For all sores, ulcers, wounds, burns, and skin diseases—Boggs' German Salve, the famous pile cure, C. H. Lidel, Nevada, Mo., says: "It gave me immediate relief from piles and effected a permanent cure." A GUARANTEED REMEDY, endorsed by physicians. For sale by W. F. PINE.

State game and fish officers will stock the Arkansas river this year with rainbow trout. It is stated that 100,000 fish are to be dumped into the river near Leadville in the spring. Placer mining at Granite is said to pollute the waters of the Arkansas in that vicinity and an effort is being made to have it stopped.—La Junta Tribune.

FOR THE HOMES AND FARMS OF KANSAS.

The Semi-Weekly Capital FOR 1900.

EDITED BY GENERAL J. K. HUDSON.

Will be Best Newspaper for Kansas Readers Ever Published In or Out of the State.

It will furnish, twice a week, at the cost of an ordinary weekly paper, all the news of the world and more Kansas news than all other papers combined.

In these times the ordinary weekly newspaper for general news, is too slow for the up-to-date, progressive farmer of Kansas. He must know what is going on in the world or be distanced in every race of life by his more progressive competitor.

He cannot afford to wait seven days for the important happenings from the Philippines, the Transvaal and the great news centers of his own country, when he can obtain it twice each week while it is fresh and interesting, for the small sum of one dollar per year.

Editorially, it will be a sincere and earnest champion of everything that will promote the prosperity and welfare of Kansas and all the interests of her people. It will earnestly advocate the control of the great trust evil which menaces the growth of small and valuable manufacturing interests throughout the West.

It will stand as an independent and outspoken advocate of Republican principles; for the enforcement of all laws; for clean and honorable politics; for a party policy which recognizes the right of the rank and file of the party to name their own candidates, from road overseer to President, without boss or machine domination.

A year's subscription to The Semi-Weekly Capital now will cover all the news of the great Presidential campaign of the year 1900, and will be worth twice what it costs.

A year's subscription will also give you the latest Market Reports, not once but twice a week.

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

The witness was a stupid-looking Swede. The cross-examining attorney was a smart young man, whose object was to disconcert the witness and discredit his testimony: "What did you say your name was?" was the first question. "Yahn"—very deliberately—"Peterson." "John Peterson, eh? Old man Peter's son, I suppose. Now, Peterson, answer this question carefully. Are you a married man?" "Ah tank so. Ah was married." "So you think because you got married that you are a married man, do you? That's funny. Now tell the gentlemen of this exceptionally intelligent jury whom you married." "Who ah married? Ah married a woman." "See here sir, don't you know any better than to trifle with this court? Of course you married a woman; did you ever hear of anyone marrying a man?" "Yes, mah sister did."

An Editor's Recommendation.

Mr. W. J. Hutchisson, editor Gazette, Pleasantville, Mo., writes: "I have used Krause's Headache Capsules with satisfactory results. I bought a box which cost me 25c and one capsule cured me of a dreadful sick headache. My wife and myself have also used the other medicines prepared by the Norman Lichy Mfg. Co., and we recommend them to the public to be just as represented. Sold by W. F. PINE.

Though it is true that the memory ought not to be cultivated while the other powers of the mind are allowed to lie fallow, it is equally true that the other powers of the mind ought not to be cultivated while the memory is allowed to lie fallow.—Salmon's The Art of Teaching.

Easter comes this year on April 15th, and Lent commences February 28th. The date for Easter is usually late this year, and in fact is within one week of the latest possible date for the feast. The setting of the date is by means of the Paschal moon, and on this account it is impossible for it to come earlier than March 21st, or later than April 25th.

"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes Mr. W. H. Stapleton, Hermine, Pa. "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without number, but Pain Balm is the best medicine I have got hold of." One application relieves the pain. The St. Louis Christian Advocate says, "Methodist people in this city and in the towns and country districts of this state, will do well to be on their guard against the Mormon elders who are now conducting an active propaganda in St. Louis and perhaps also in other parts of Missouri. There are many of them in this city, and they are now making a house-to-house canvass, requesting the privilege of discussing the principles of their religion with the inmates of every house at which they call, and if repulsed, begging to leave their literature in the hope that it may be read. The object of these men is to secure population for Utah. That State is threatened with a preponderance of what they call the "Gentile element," and it is necessary for the perpetuation of Mormonism that it shall retain political supremacy. Every convert who can be persuaded to do so, goes to Utah. The church provides him with funds and assigns him a home on his arrival, and thus the Mormons expect to keep up their numbers and retain their ascendancy in the state. There is, unfortunately, no law to prevent these people from disseminating their doctrines, but every respectable citizen should do all he can to discourage them in their efforts to make proselytes."

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles, as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at W. F. PINE, drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

Some old things are hard to improve on. For instance, the state of Mississippi once had law requiring a man to give a bond of $200.00 to properly care for a wife before he could get married.
